Summary

Competencies: C, C++, Python, React, Django, NodeJS, JavaScript
I'm a computer scientist who loves to learn new skills, explore various domains and keep up with the current advancements. Applying my programming skills to solve real-world problems excites me the most. I am a fast learner who comes up with an efficient solution for day-to-day problems.

Seeing the technological advancement that computers had made in the past few years ignites the fire inside me to think, develop and implement solutions to complex problems. I have an interest in Web Development, Data Science and Mathematical Analysis.
